“Touching the sensibilities” is our goal

“Nifrel” was named after our concept “Kansei ni fureru,” which means “Touching the sensibilities.”
 Small flowers on the wayside, ladybirds, clouds in the sky, the setting sun, the smell after an evening shower, and sounds of the rain...

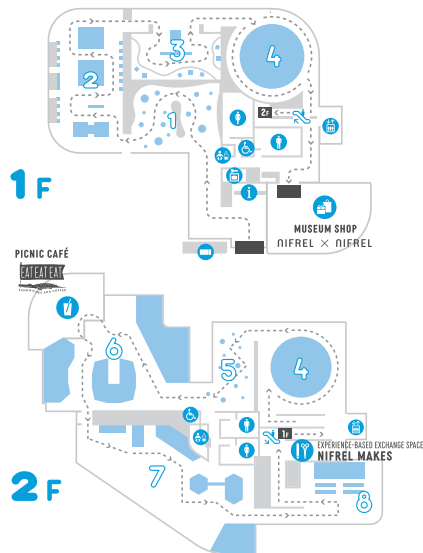

Everyone deserves to have memories of being moved by natural phenomena and small animals on their doorstep.

The animals in the photographs may not be available for viewing due to their health or the time of year in which they are exhibited.

Eight zones of art-like presentations of wildlife

Employing immersive installations combining life forms, lighting, music, and video images, each distinctive zone showcases the fascination of wildlife and nature so they can be appreciated intuitively, like art. The "Abilities" and "Behavior" zones are staffed by curators who will help introduce visitors to animals.
